

Have your say on policing in Caerphilly

The new Police and Crime Commissioner for Gwent, Jane Mudd, wants to hear your views on policing in Caerphilly.

Police and Crime Commissioners are responsible for holding the Chief Constable to account for the delivery of local policing services, setting the police's yearly budget, and commissioning services to support policing priorities.

The information will inform the Commissioner's Police and Crime Plan, which will set out the strategic direction for her term in office.
